

'Twill Be The Same This Year . . .

Shown above is a portion of last year's Jamboree parade, with Ray Shantz handling the reins of one of the chuch-wagon teams which will appear again this year. Make it a date for next Wednesday and see the midgets in action in the arena. Remember the date—Wednesday, July 29th.

Jamboree Day Set For Next Wednesday

The Annual Didsbury Jamboree will kick-off at 12 noon next Wednesday, July 29th, with a grand parade. There will be prizes for floats (commercial floats do not qualify for these prizes but it is expected they will be there in numbers to add that extra color).

Other parade prizes will go to the best decorated car; best decorated bicycle; best decorated pet; best decorated rider and horse (two classes); best turned out old-timer. Impartial judges have been chosen for all of these events.

This big day, sponsored by the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs of Didsbury, will then move over to the Memorial Grounds, where you will be able to watch Little League, Pony League and Senior League baseball.

There will be a flower and vegetable exhibit, as well as a farm and automotive display.

Other attractions include a show by the Didsbury volunteer fire brigade, children's races and games for the kiddies to ride.

Arena events will be one of the top spots on the program: Pony Chuckwagon Race, Stake Race, Climbing Pole, Greased Pig, etc. More than pay the price of your admission.

In the evening a bingo game in the arena will be held. Two $50 blackouts, as well as many other valuable prizes, should attract a large number of customers.

TOO MUCH SOUP ! ! !

Mac: How, Walter, there's a fly swimming in my soup."

Walter: "Then I've served you too much soup. He should be just wading."

Collect 95 Pints At Clinic

The following is a copy of a letter sent to Mrs. Wm. (Daisy Mae) McCoy and Mr. E. Cogswell, following the recent blood donor clinic. McCoy have it that 95 pints of the precious substance were donated. We quote:

"Many thanks to you, your willing workers and generous donors for a grand clinic well organized and conducted. We do appreciate your backing at this particular time and we hope you feel your backing is highly valued. "Would you please pass along our message of thanks to all those you feel would like to know our sentiments. Specially mentioning the ladies who staffed the clinic, Mrs.

THE MENTAL PICTURE

Housewife, on phone: "Have you any good steak?" Butcher: "Some very nice steak, Mrs. Jones, but it's $1.30 a pound." Housewife: "Well, send up just enough for two of us for supper, and tell the boy I'm not home, to push it through the keyhole."

BERGEN NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Clarke and Sharon returned from a holiday trip to Grande Prairie and Edmonton, where they visited their sons Murray and Don and families. Both sons are forest rangers.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilmore visited briefly in the district. They were called to Calgary because of the serious illness of Howard's mother, Mrs. Annie Gilmore, a former resident of Didsbury.

The Bergen Community Assoc. sponsored by the Bergen General Store, won second in their class for their float.

Virginia Connors and Wendy Tweeds won first and second prizes for their decorated bikes. They were dressed as bride and groom complete with tin cans cars trailing behind.

Mrs. Wm McCormick is a patient in the Olds hospital. Darren McCormick and Grace Wiens are enjoying their summer employment at Sylvan Lake.

PROPER WAY TO STOP BLEEDING

What is the first thing the average person thinks of at the scene of an accident when someone is bleeding heavily from an injury? Arm or leg? A tourniquet, of course.

So long has the false impression been spread that a tourniquet is the only answer to every case of this kind that many continue to believe it. The truth is that a tourniquet should never be applied to a bleeding limb. Tourniquets applied too loosely will cause increased venous bleeding. If applied too tightly they will cause damage to nerves and blood vessels, and if left on too long, may result in gangrene of the limb. Tourniquets left on for prolonged period usually result in death.

Only in the case of a partially torn blood vessel is a tourniquet ever necessary. Then it must be applied at once if a fatal hemorrhage is to be prevented.

What is the proper method of stopping bleeding? The answer is a pressure dressing applied directly over the bleeding area and held in place by firm, but not tight, bandaging.

J. Worrall, Mrs. M. Hooper, Mrs. Gebers, Mrs. Woods, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Hamper, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. McNeil, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. L. Hunsperger, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Pringle, Mrs. Enston, Mrs. Dippel and Mrs. R. Kershaw.

"Our girls would like to join with me in thanking the ladies for the many friendly courtesies shown them and the lovely supper such a pleasure to sit down to. You have been very kind and the girls really do look forward to visiting you."

The letter was signed by A. W. Haley, donor panel organizer for Southern Alberta.

DIDSBURY SCOUTS' BUILDING FUND

The Didsbury branch of the Canadian Legion are sponsoring the building of a log hut for the use of local Boy Scout groups, including Guides, Cubs and Brownies. Funds are urgently needed as work on this project will commence in the near future.

Donations of cash or labour will be greatly appreciated. Money should be given to Mr. John Tieworth or Dr. Ian Miller. Cheques should be made payable to the "Didsbury Scouts' Building Fund."

Westcott News

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Miss Marian Wilshusen is in Calgary this week, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Les Goetjen.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robertson returned at the weekend from a trip to Eastern Canada, where they visited their daughter Mary (Mrs. Don MacIntyre) and family.

Miss Elizabeth Ford is away at camp this week.

Mrs. Dave Gilchrist and daughter of Edmonton, are visiting at the Jack Robertson's this week. The Gilchrists will leave shortly for Moose, Sask.

Haying is in full swing in this district and is reported to be very good, much improved over last year and the prolonged heat wave has hurried the grain crops along and early grain varieties are headed out.

The Taylor boys of Bowness were visiting at the H. Wilshusen home last week.

WHISTLE STOPPING FAVORED BY QUEEN

The Queen Wednesday returned to the kind of touring she likes best—whistle stops.

She obviously prefers small gatherings on station platforms in little communities to the formal reception in Canada's big cities.

She is at her best at the little places and, like Prince Philip, makes a greater attempt to chat with as many persons as possible. The editor and his family were privileged enough to see the Queen and Prince three times during their Vancouver visit and we must admit the Queen did look tired.

Caravan Team To Visit Here

The team is designed to assist local Lutheran congregations with their youth programs. Mr. Lux is a student of Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana. Miss Belke is a student at the University of Wisconsin, Wausau, Wisconsin. Miss Siess is a student at Northeast High School, St. Petersburg, Florida. All three are active members of the school, their home church, and their home Lutheran League societies.

The caravanners will assist the youth in devotional services, topic discussions, service projects, recreation and fellowship sessions. They will join the local Leagues in reaching the unchurched youth of our community. The five-point program of the Lutheran League—Worship, Education, Fellowship, Service, and Recreation will be explained to the youth, their parents, counselors, and other adults of Redeemer Lutheran Church. A special family night will be held on Friday evening, July 24th.

The three young people coming to Didsbury represent a cross section of Lutheran teen-agers in the United States and Canada. Each of the 18 teams completed a ten week correspondence course in youth work. Prior to beginning their summer tour, they were briefed in a four-day training session at Valparaiso University.

While the Caravanners are guests of Redeemer, special meetings will be held every evening from July 29 to Aug. 1st, for the local Leagues. Rev. E. B. Fox of Redeemer and Mr. Richard Reinhardt, Youth Counselor, have arranged a full schedule of meetings with the Church Elders, League Officers and Leagues.

Hail Suppression Report . . .

Following is one of the weekly reports received in this office by the hail suppression company operating in this area:

The hot, dry conditions continue to dominate the weather pattern. The week of July 11 to 18 gave less thunder-storm activity than can be expected at this time of year. On the evening of July 13th a thunderstorm developed north of Oids and moved in an easterly direction. Both ground generators and aircraft were used to seed it, and while small hail was reported, no indication of damage has been received.

To date, ground generators have operated 3253 hours and the aircraft have been used 10 days on seeding operations as well as several flights for observational purposes.

No reports have been received to date on the thunder storms which struck through the district on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

NEWLYWEDS FED AT CHAVARI

The Snyder farm range was recently invaded when some 30 cars converged at the door, with hunking of horns and approximately 100 people appearing like bees through doors and filling the rooms to capacity. Jessie and Bill, the newlyweds, graciously received well wishes while the house re-echoed with chatter and happiness because of the lovely occasion.

On behalf of their friends Ken Burns congratulated the happy couple and wished them the very best for the future. He then asked them to accept the many parcels of food that were waiting on the table, as an expression of affection and goodwill.

At the close of the evening a very bountiful pot luck lunch was served and Jessie and Bill treated their guests to chocolate and cigarettes.

GOVERNMENT TO SUPPORT HAIL SUPPRESSION

(The following report was borrowed from the pages of the Calgary Albertan)

The federal government is now co-operating fully in Alberta's hail suppression program, minister of transport Hon. George Hees announced in Calgary Tuesday. W. Lloyd McSorley, manager of the company contracting to supply 3,000 odd Alberta farmers with hail suppression service confirmed the announcement.

Mr. Hees was in Calgary briefly before leaving for Saskatoon. Details of the new arrangement between the department and the company, Irving P. Krieger and Associates, are being worked out by P. D. McTaggart-Cowan, associate director of the government's weather services and Mr. McSorley.

A state of non-co-operation with the hail suppression enterprise was reported and criticized in an Albertan editorial on Wednesday of last week. Some 60 copies of the editorial were immediately airmailed to members of the government and Parliament. First word of a different attitude was wired to the Alberta Hail Suppression Association, which consists of the interested farmers, on Friday, although Mr. McTaggart-Cowan told The Albertan this week that the decision had been made before the editorial appeared.

Originally the farmers had three complaints: that the government was charging for the weather information, that it was withholding all weather data anticipated and specifically requested, and that there was an unnecessary and damaging delay in supplying whatever data that was requested.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL DRAWS THE YOUNGESTERS

Daily Vacation Bible School is in full swing at the Didsbury United Missionary Church. A very excellent staff of teachers and helpers are doing a fine job of instructing over 50 children that are present each day.

The children will be presenting a program in the church on Friday evening, July 24th, at 8 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Next Wednesday night, July 29, at 8 p.m., Rev. Elton Reeder, returned missionary from Africa, will be the guest speaker in the church. Once again, a warm invitation is extended to all to join in this missionary service.

Golf Notes . . .

Mrs. Greta Folkmann won the "one club" competition last week, using a 3 iron. This week the competition will be "no winter rules," three flights. So out you go ladies and see if playing the ball where it lies makes any difference to your score.

Two on Thursday at 3:30 as per usual. The "Mr. and Mrs. Didsbury" Trophy has been changing hands. Another challenge match will be played this week.

One hundred and forty-eight Alberta farm residents lost their lives in accidents of all kinds last year. Statistics would indicate the toll will be higher this year.

In an attempt to arrest what Bill Perkins, Alberta's farm safety director, calls these "needless killings," safety organizations from coast to coast will join in this "National Farm Safety Week."

Aim of the week, which has been endorsed by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and other leading national figures, is to show farmers from coast to coast that common sense will reduce the toll.

"In talking to many accident victims," Mr. Perkins said, "there always are statements like these: 'I became so exasperated I threw caution to the winds;' or even, 'I was really tired, but I wanted to finish the last few rounds.'"

The Safety Director added: "Neither the injured nor the dead would have been 'accident' victims if they had exercised some common sense."

Of the 148 farm residents who met accidental deaths last year, 51 were under 19 years of age; 28 of them were under nine. 37 of them were over 60, while the remaining 60 were between 19 and 59, according to figures compiled by the Alberta Safety Council. At least 80 times the fatality total were maintained.

This week, which is designed around the slogan "Safety Makes Sense," is sponsored by provincial safety councils, farm organizations and the Canadian Federation of Farm Equipment dealers.

Ten Modern Commandments

These precepts are said to be the composite idea of some four thousand teenagers.

1. Stop and think before you drink.
2. Don't let your parents down; they brought you up.
3. Be humble enough to obey. You will be giving orders yourself someday.
4. At the first moment turn away from unclean thinking - at the first moment!
5. Don't show off when driving. If you want to race, go to Indianapolis.
6. Choose a date who would make a good mate.
7. Go to church faithfully. The Creator gives you the week - give Him back an hour.
8. Choose your companions carefully. You are what they are.
9. Avoid following the crowd. Be an engine, not a caboose.
10. Or even better - keep the original Ten Commandments.

Small Fry Drivers

Should a boy be allowed to drive a tractor? This is a problem which has been bothering farm safety experts for some time.

A report from the Alberta Safety Council shows that each year more fatal traffic accidents occur in the 10-14 age group than in any other age category.

"This seems to point up the fact that young people who don't know how to handle tractors are being allowed to operate them," the Council said this week in conjunction with National Farm Safety Week.

"If it is absolutely necessary for a youth to drive a tractor, he should be thoroughly trained in all phases of tractor safety before he takes over the wheel," the Council warned.

A teenager - or anyone who operates a tractor for that matter - should be aware of the need for regular safety inspections, should know the proper way to handle a tractor in any situation or on any terrain and should use extreme caution at all times," the Council added.

Carelessness and ignorance are responsible for most tractor accidents.

The biggest chances are taken when more than one person rides a tractor. Tractors are made for one person to operate - no more. But too often someone hitches a ride. And that can lead to tragedy.

CHEMICALS ON FALLOW

Soil drifting was a serious problem in many areas of Western Canada this Spring. It was most destructive on fallow land on which the trash cover had been destroyed either by burning or by excessive tillage. The question arises: is there any practice or practices whereby grain farmers can eliminate weed growth from their summerfallow and still leave enough trash cover to protect the soil?

Mr. D. A. Brown, Assistant Superintendent, Brandon Experimental Farm, who is widely known in Western Canada for his excellent research on weeds and their control, as well as for his knowledge of soil problems, has recently released some encouraging information on this subject. For several years, he has been experimenting with various summerfallow methods, including the application of weed-killing chemicals in conjunction with cultivation. Concerning the results, Mr. Brown makes the following statement: "Yields on fallow receiving only 2 cultivations, plus herbicides, have been equal to those in plots maintained by tillage alone." He goes on to say that broad-leaved weeds were controlled with one to 3 applications of 2,4-D ester at rates ranging from 1½ to 3 lbs. per acre depending on the kinds of weeds present.

To many farmers the application of such high rates of 2,4-D on fallow may, at first glance, seem to be an expensive method of weed control. However, the time and money saved through reducing the number of cultivations is an important factor. Besides, the additional trash cover left on the soil through the use of chemicals is likely to result in the saving of many dollars worth of valuable topsoil.

Try replacing two or three costly cultivations with chemical on your fallow this year. It could save you money, give better weed control and help keep that valuable topsoil from blowing or washing away.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS . . .

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, "freedom of the press?"

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom — the freedom of all men to speak their minds freely and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy. But freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom because under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public affairs. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic nation.

If any proof be needed, it is supplied by the record of the totalitarian dictatorships which have darkened the 20th century. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the cornerstone on which all these regimes — Nazi, Fascist and Communist alike — were founded. Without it, they could hardly have lasted for more than a few months. With it, they could keep their peoples in blinkers and drive them on any course they chose. The calamities of our age, its fear and insecurity, stem in no small measure from the simple fact that at critical periods great sections of the earth's population have been prevented by their rulers from learning the real news of the world.

All liberty, of course, involves obligations. That of a free newspaper is to be truly free. It must strive to be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials and resistant to outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold — cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must above all be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understand it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the free peoples of the world have traditionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

Guest EditorialSHOULD SERVE WHERE QUALIFICATIONS MOST USEFUL

School Boards in Alberta are beginning to set up a resistance on the part of many highly qualified teachers to accept positions in the higher grades. According to most salary schedules the qualifications to provide the same salary schedule in a grade 12 room as in a Grade X room. On the face of things this seems a bit ridiculous, but many a school board has been frustrated during the past few years over just such a situation. Now there is a move to give the school boards authority to direct teachers with required qualifications to teach where their background can serve best. There will be some resistance, but common sense is bound to win out in the long run. School Superintendents and Inspectors are in favor of the new attitude. But what will the Department of Education have to say to back them up? The teacher shortage is beginning to ease up, but in spite of the high salary schedules of the present day, not too many are being attracted into the profession as a permanent career. A new phase observed by School Trustee Boards is the movement of High School teachers out from the large cities to the smaller population centers. No one has the answer for it yet.

NIGHT FLOWERING CATCH-FLY:—

This weed derives its name from the fact that it flowers at night, having a small yellowish white flowers. The plant grows erect from 1 to 3 feet in height. Leaves are large and dark green in color and the whole plant, stem and leaves are covered with soft-spreading glandular hairs.

Time of flowering is from late June to autumn. Seed is ripe by late July and is about the same size and shape as sweet clover seed. As a matter of fact we often find that people who seed sweet clover are also victims of night flowering catch-fly since they buy second grade seed which is not free of this troublesome weed. This weed is a heavy seeder, annual in nature and not controllable with 2,4-D. Leaves are sticky and make a good fly catcher.

These days our roadside weed growers are treating weeds with 2,4-D. The same question arises every year from people who seek to take advantage of the luxurious growth of hay on the roadside. The question they ask is this, does 2,4-D poison the hay. The answer is positively no.

Anyone who tells you otherwise doesn't know the facts. Since 2,4-D has absolutely no hazardous effect on grass or hay you are completely safe to pasture livestock in pasture land treated or to make hay that has been treated with 2,4-D or MCP.

Shower Held For July Bride-Elect

A large group of friends and relatives gathered at the Westwood school to honor the popular bride of the month, Miss Joyce Fisher with a miscellaneous shower.

The entertainment was ably handled by the Stetten sisters, Sylvia and Sandra, who directed the contests, following which relay games were played.

The guest of honor was then seated on a chair beautifully decorated in pink and white, from which she opened her many lovely gifts. Assisting her were Sylvia and Sandra Stetten, Arlene Weidner and Bonny Murphy. Joyce then thanked all the ladies for the many gifts and the fine evening.

Highlighting the delicious lunch served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. A. Stetten, Mrs. Bill Weidner, and Mrs. Otto Folkmann was the beautifully cake, made and iced by Mrs. O. Folkmann. The cake was so lovely that the bride remarked "It is too nice to be cut up."

Best wishes of the community are extended to Duane and Joyce in many years of married life.

NOTES FROM

The District
Agriculturist
HOWARD
FULCHER

Now is the time to check all grain storage buildings. Any repairs that are required should be carried out well before the commencement of harvesting operations. Moisture is a great menace to the safe storing of grain, leaky roofs, doors not fitted properly or open, hatches allowed snow and rain in. If the grain is stored in a building which is ventilated these should be weather-proofed.

Insects, grain beetles and mites can and often do cause heavy losses to stored grain. The best method of control is to thoroughly clean the bins, and use a 1% lin-lane solution sprayed well into all corners and cracks. Do not store newly harvested grain on the top of a little bit of last year's grain which may be mouldy or it may be full of mites, etc.

The life of a granary can be greatly reduced because it is not set squarely on the ground. One corner on soft ground or over a low spot will settle when filled causing the twisting of the building which may cause breakage of parts of the structure and ruin a good granary.

When placing granaries, locate them on high enough land so as to avoid wet areas around them in the spring. It is also important to place them so that it is not too difficult to get them during the winter. The harvested crop is the return of a lot of cost and work during the year, it is important to store it well after it has been harvested. A few repairs and a thorough cleaning now when time is available will protect against later losses and insure a good quality product coming out of the bins.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The effectiveness of healing based on spiritual law will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Leeson-Sermon entitled "Truth."

Peter's healing of the "man lame from his mother's womb" will be featured in the Bible reading which includes this passage:

"Then Peter said, silver and gold I have none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up; and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up, stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walked and leaping, and praising God." (Acts 3: 6-8)

Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy include (183:26-29): "Truth casts out all evils and materialistic methods with the actual spiritual law. — the law which gives sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, voice to the dumb, feet to the lame."

Electricity Is Safe

If you use common sense

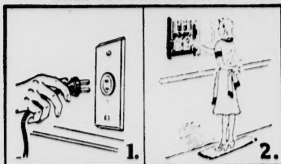

"Here is what may happen if you fail to use common sense."

COMMON SENSE RULES:

1. Employ a competent electrician to wire your home and farm buildings.
2. Use approved appliances, equipment and cords.
3. Never handle cords nor equipment with wet hands or while standing in wet places. Almost all places are wet enough to cause a ground for electricity. Wood and concrete floors have moisture in them.
4. Be familiar with directions for use of each piece of equipment—and operate it according to these directions.
5. Extension cords should not be run under rugs, over nails, nor around pipes or radiators, nor out-of-doors.
6. Always pull the plug—not the cord when disconnecting equipment.
7. Always replace a blown fuse with another of the same rating. Never use anything else as a substitute for a fuse.
8. Never touch exposed wires until you have turned off the power.
9. Call the nearest power office whenever your own service or the power line goes dead.
10. Always ground portable tools such as drills, hand saws, sanders, etc. before plugging in.
11. When moving tall machines or out-buildings, make certain there is ample room under all power lines.
12. Infra-red heat lamp installation should be of the best workmanship and material. Lamps should be suspended by chain or heavy wire, never by the cord. They should have heat resistant porcelain receptacles. Lamps should be protected from moisture and mechanical injury by a reflector top and hoop style guard underneath.

WHEN YOU CHANGE A FUSE

1. Locate and disconnect lamp or appliance responsible.
2. Insert blow fuse while standing on dry board.
3. Uncrew, being careful not to touch anything but fuse rim. Replace with new fuse of correct ampere rating.

Note: Use 15 ampere fuse for ordinary household or lighting circuits (No. 14 wire). 30 ampere fuse can be used with No. 12 wire.

Alberta Hail Studies . . .

Farmers in central Alberta are playing an increasingly important role in hail research as Alberta Hail Studies continue to expand its activities this summer. During the past three weeks this research project has established over 25 hail-collection stations throughout its area, in order to collect representative samples of hailstones from summer storms. According to Dr. R. H. Douglas, who directs the project, samples when examined carefully and measured, will add useful data to the wealth of hail information which the weather men are already collecting. Measurements of size and of density are expected to help clarify the relationship between the hail-forming processes and the rain-forming ones within the storm clouds.

Special refrigerated boxes have been set up near Acme, Olds, Penhold, Lacombe, Hespero, Rocky Mt. House, Ponoka and Rimbey. During a storm, hail is channelled by means of a large funnel into a pail of cold oil, where it remains safely until collected by project personnel. Hail samples are also being collected at about two dozen other locations, using somewhat simpler apparatus. The farmers on whose land the equipment is placed assist the researchers by storing the hail in refrigerators, and reporting the collections of the samples.

"The farmers are showing a keen interest in the project," says Dr. Douglas. "And everyone whom we have asked to help has not been more willing to do so."

Several samples of hail have already been "trapped." These fell in the extensive storms of June 24, at Acme, Olds, and Bowden. At Acme and Bowden the stones rained in size up to three-quarters of an inch. At Olds, however, the hail was uniformly small, about one-eighth of an inch.

In addition to the hail-collection system, Alberta Hail Studies is setting up a special observation network in order to study the small-scale pressure patterns which are associated with certain types of storms. Sensitive and delicate barographs - pressure-measuring instruments - are being installed at approximately ten-mile intervals over an area forty miles by fifty miles, north of Red Deer. Twenty barographs have already been installed, and another dozen will be set out shortly. These are located on farms throughout the area, and are operated with the co-operation and assistance of the farmers.

Mr. Douglas reported that over fifteen hundred individual observations of hail have reached project headquarters since the first of June. Hail has occurred within the project area on three days out of every four since the summer program began. Major storms since mid-June have occurred on June 22, 24, 30 and July 3rd. The storms of June 24th were the most extensive thus far in the project area, Alberta Hail Studies having received almost three hundred reports on this day alone. Hail swaths extended from Rocky Mt. House to Three Hills, from Cromona to Chancellors, and from Pridals to Mooseleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eloy and daughter Marilyn, were visitors at Banff over the weekend. It was the occasion of Marilyn's eighth birthday and they celebrated there because both Glen and Grayson are working in Banff. They returned to the campus Sunday evening, but will leave during the week for a two-week vacation.

Clifford and Alice Stauffer are back on campus again while they work in the United Missionary Daily Vacation Bible school held in the church during this week. These two young people are spending some time this summer in this type of work at various places. They will register as students in the College this fall, taking their fourth year of work preparatory for the ministry.

We were most grateful again to Rev. Bob Simpson of the Sunrise Gospel Bookroom, Calgary, for the fine number of Bibles and books that he sent up for the book stand during camp meeting. The profit from these books allowed us, helps to create additional funds for the library. Library books are an ever increasing demand here; this adds substantially to the books we need.

The campus is a quiet place these days. Only a few people are around, but there is plenty of work for those who remain. The office is usually a busy place for correspondence. It is heavy at times, as young people are asking for information concerning the courses. We appreciate those who are getting in their applications early this year. We expect a good student body again this year.

The Associated Student Body of the College now has its own stationery. This body is progressing nicely as an organization and are independent in their organization doing their own business and making their own plans, many of them are subject to the approval of the faculty. Mr. Leonard DeWitt is the president of the organization for the coming year.

Mrs. Arthur Eloy is teaching in the Daily Vacation Bible school at the church during the week. She takes the class in the forenoon and her sister, Mrs. Ira Stauffer, takes it in the afternoon.

We trust that as many as can are listening to the Ood News Radio broadcasts each Sunday morning over CKEL at 7:30 a.m. This station is increasing its power very soon and a much larger territory will be covered.

The professor's idea might be fine if other groups in the economy were willing to likewise, but this is not likely. Manufacturers would not sit idly by while protective tariffs are removed, labor certainly would not agree to forgo its bargaining power, the professions are unlikely to disband their associations through which fees are regulated and licenses controlled, and big business would not like interference in its operations.

As long as there are tariffs, patents, labor unions, professional associations, and monopolistic business there can be no true free markets in this country. Why then should farmers be expected to operate under an entirely different set of rules than other Canadians? Or for that matter, why should Canadian farmers be placed at the mercy of an unrestricted open market in competition with farmers in other countries who are producing in protected markets with all the benefits of price supports and production incentives?

NEUFELD — LACHMAN

At a ceremony in the Mayette United Missionary church on July 1st, Miss Vera Eva Hannah Lachman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delman Henry Lachman of Oids became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Earle Neufeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil J. Neufeld of Didsbury.

Uncle of the groom, Rev. Abe Neufeld of Cremona performed the double ring ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white floor length gown of lace and net over satin. The gown had lily point sleeves. Her chapel length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a pearl and sequin covered tiara. She carried a white Bible with streamers of white satin and red sweetheart roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Evelyn Neufeld, sister of the groom as maid of honor and Miss Clara Lachman, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. They wore yellow gowns of lace and net over taffeta. Their head-dresses of blue rayon net were embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. They carried nosegays of blue carnations.

Attending the groom were Mr. Wayne Shantz of Didsbury and Mr. Kenneth Schafer of Oids, and ushering were Mr. Clarence Lachman and Mr. Gordon Schafer.

Ruby and Gladys Lachman, sisters of the bride were flower girls. They wore indelible dresses of blue nylon sheer over taffeta and carried white baskets of pink roses. The candle lighters were Pearl Lachman, sister of the bride and Dennis Neufeld, brother of the groom.

Miss Marion Schafer, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Mr. Amos Neufeld of Didsbury sang "A Wedding Prayer"; during the reception of the bride, "Tenderly He Watches Over Me" and "Marriage Vows."

The mother of the bride wore a figured blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. The mother of the groom wore a plain blue dress with white accessories, her corsage was of red sweetheart roses.

The reception was held in the Mayette school. The background was of green drapes with lily of the valley flowers. White roses decked the bride's table with beautiful decorated three-tiered cake in the centre.

Rev. A. E. Habermehl of Didsbury proposed the toast. For a honeymoon trip to the States and B.C. the bride chose a turquoise suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Out of town guests were from Indiana, Calgary, Canmore, Edmonton, Acme, Sundre, Didsbury, New Westminster, Carstairs and Cremona.

At present the happy couple are making their home east of Didsbury, on the farm of the groom's father.
